

5 year Bible Reading plan – week 96

Week 96 – w/c 9/9/18

Monday: Mark 13:14-37. Whatever we may think about the Second coming of Jesus, two things are clear: Firstly, the time of his return as King is not known to us (v33), and secondly, we must be ready and expectant. If it was to happen today would there be things you would wish to have changed in your life?

Tuesday: Exodus 37:1-29. In the temple everything was overlaid with gold. No expense was spared when it came to giving praise and worship to God! Do you give of your best and are you generous and extravagant in expressing your praise and thanks to God?

Wednesday: 2 Samuel 11:1-27. David's greatest moral failure occurred when he had little to do – he remained in Jerusalem while the army went to battle, and this was the start of his mistakes. When you are tempted, does it come at times when you are overactive or at a loose end? What other things does he do or fail to do in this chapter that you can learn from?

Thursday: Proverbs 12:20-28. Read verse 26 again. Are you careful that the friends you have, and the people you spend time with are encouraging your walk with God, and not influencing you in the wrong way?

Friday: Jeremiah 25:15-38. Judah was not the only nation who would suffer God's judgement through the Babylonian army. Here Jeremiah warns that judgement would come upon all the nations that did not follow God's ways. Pray for our nation, Europe and other countries you are concerned about, that they will turn back to God's ways and avoid His judgement.

Weekend: Galatians 4:1-20. v4 indicates that God has a time to accomplish his plans, whether for sending Jesus into the world, or for bringing about his purposes in your life. Take time to look back over your life and note the times when you see God's hand on your life moving you forward and closer to himself. Praise him for his sense of timing in your experience.
